Butler's Acceptance.

BOSTON, Aug 30.—Gen. Butler, in a card accepting the nomination for governor of Massachusetts, says:

I take the trust with all its cares, and will devote all of the intelligence, labor, forethought and energy which in me lies and use all the power which they and those who think with them may give me to relieve the people's burdens and bring about a more equal and efficient administration of the laws of this commonwealth which they wish. As we have no organization or platform of party principles, either state or national, it may not be inappropriate to set forth the principles which will guide my political measures, as well as the conduct of all governmental functions which may be entrusted to me: Equal rights, equal duties equal powers, equal burdens equal privileges and equal protection by the laws to every man, everywhere, under the government, state or national The laws of taxation should be made so plain, so direct and efficient and be so faithfully administered; that all of the property of every kind in the commonwealth should be taxed just once every year and no more, as lightly as possible equally and fairly, and that none can escape the public burden A law regulating the rate of interest is advocated The repeal of the law against usury has, in many cases, ruined both borrower and lender It certainly has shaken to its foundation our savings bank system. The result may teach managers of those institutions that when the Almighty thundered his new laws for his chosen people from Mount Sinai, the only financial law delivered to Moses was, "take thee no usury of thy brother, but God was omnipotent in wisdom' Let us abolish and fearlessly set aside as far as we can boards, commissions and unconstitutionally appointed officers and sinecurists, with their retainers and employes now living upon the substance of the people, extorted from them by taxation We have no political machinery no political wire-workers, who can make claim on us. We are directly from the people and of the people, nay, the people themselves Let the people interpose just this once between governing and the people without the middle men of contention or regard to political issues The legislative and executive departments of state in the coming year may not affect the administration of national affairs in any way, and if they do their full duty to the people and do the work of the people instead of thrusting it upon boards and commissions and attend to the reforms needed at home, they will have full employment for all their time. We do but ask, therefore those who act with us to persistently change or alter any political opinions whatever upon any subject, but any one seeing the necessity, as we see it of relieving the people's burdens and bringing about a more equal and efficient administration of the laws of the commonwealth to act with us to that end

WASHINGTON CITY.

Dennis on the Rampage at the Capital.

WASHINGTON, Aug 30—Dennis Kearney addressed a large audience to-night from the eastern portico of the capitol During his remarks he said the country was ripe for a social revolution, and the workingmen were going to win. He warned those whom he designated plunderers, lecherous bondholders bank smashers, railroad robbers, land pirates and political bummers, and all hell born and hell-bound thieves in and out of jail not to interfere with the rights of American citizens The battle was to be fought between honest men and thieves The remedy for existing evils was to organize and agitate, to pool the issues and put them into one pot and tie over them a cover so tight that the pot could not be lifted till captured by the workingmen who have a paper knife to cut the throats of political bummers and elect honest industrious and intelligent men [illegible] then instruct them what to do Kearney said he considered the president as a [illegible] but he had [illegible] a very high opinion of him as a president He had the honor of casting his maiden vote for Hayes. Peter Cooper was too much of an old granny. Some one in the crowd asked how Butler would do, to which question Kearney replied, "If you had him all would be right." After condemnatory remarks concerning Sherman and members of congress he said all the cabinet officers [illegible] men They avoided conversation on the money issue and turned from the subject to something else They all went to the same school as they gave the same answers to the same questions The workingmen have the power in their hands so as to make the social structure of this country shake from centre to circumference in the assertion of their rights They had no quarrel with capital honestly earned and decently used but with those who robbed the people In conclusion he spoke of the damaging effects of Chinese labor upon workingmen on the Pacific coast The meeting was orderly and good humored and the remarks of the speaker were interrupted only by occasional applause and laughter on the part of the audience

Goschen of England considered a universal gold standard inconvenient and dangerous, but he also considered international ratio of value between the two metals impossible

The bishop pleasantly declined to answer it as a law question as it did not arise out of any case or trial before him but would cheerfully give his opinion about it as follows

1 A quarterly conference not only has no right to authorize a board of trustees to do such a thing but

2 If it did pass a resolution authorizing it the board of trustees has no right to be governed by it under any circumstances,

3 A board of trustees is created to hold the church property in trust and for safe keeping A board of stewards is to raise moneys to meet the current expenses of the year A pastor's salary is not legally binding and hence the trustees, as such, have nothing to do with it

On motion the conference adjourned with the benediction by Bishop Andrews

THE DEATH PENALTY

Sevier Lewis Hanged for murder of his Brother—Bravado and Blasphemy on the Gallows—Death Instantaneous.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH

EMPIRE CITY, Aug 30—To day Sevier Lewis suffered the extreme penalty of the law for the murder of his brother in May 1871 At half past two he mounted the scaffold with a firm step To the last moment he showed a very vindictive spirit to all with whom he had come in contact, declaring that he was convicted because of his poverty He repeatedly said he was not afraid to die and addressed the crowd of about two hundred and fifty spectators in an excited and rambling manner He shrunk from standing on the trap and when the sheriff proceeded to force him on he said 'What in hell are you doing that for? I am not afraid and then stood unaided on the trap while being pinioned. When the black cap was drawn over his face he said, "don't put that damned thing over my eyes" At 3 o'clock the drop fell breaking his neck. His heart ceased to beat after two minutes. The crowd was very orderly, and the universal opinion was that he suffered a just fate What sympathy he had when he first appeared was entirely removed before the conclusion of his speech, which was devoted mainly to accusing his relatives of conspiring for his conviction

JOHNSON'S CYCLOPÆDIA.

From Rev Dr J E Latimer Dean of Boston University I am pleased with Johnson's Universal Cyclopædia. I pronounce it the cyclopædia for scholars and for the people. I have no hesitation in commending it to all who desire a cyclopædia in preference to the Britannica, Knight's, Chambers', or even Appleton's new one The Britannica as all other English Cyclopædias, fails in adequate presentation of topics relating to German and French subjects, and markedly so in philosophy

The articles in Johnson's on philosophic subjects are written con amore and by adepts and are original articles, having no flavor of earlier cyclopædias The articles on natural science in general are full, quite exhaustive, and speak 'the last word' on the subject I venture to say that no cyclopædia so fully and in so brief compass presents a statement of ancient and modern literature and their chief products as does Johnson's

FROM GEN J WATTS DE PEYSTER, NEW YORK

It is a pleasure to recommend such a work—a credit to its publisher, a glory to its editors, an honor to its contributors. In a private library of reference almost without a superior, questions were decided by reference to Johnson's cyclopædia by important facts therein stated, which could not be found elsewhere

The remarkable character of this, the greatest work of the age of its kind, its special adaptability to the wants of over worked literary and business people and the needs of intelligent families, and its low price are matters in which the people are interested

New System of Wagon Brakes.

TRULLINGER PATENT BRAKE.

NO SHOES TO WEAR OUT TIRES!

No Brake Bar used. Will hold a Wagon anywhere from Backing or going Forward.

THIS NEW BRAKE NOW BEING INTRODUCED by the inventor, J C Trullinger, is a combination of friction gear applied to the hub of a wagon. It is simple and light, yet has more strength and durability than any other wagon brake now in use. It is so attached to the wagon that it is out of the way of the gearing, yet always reliable and at hand when required. Any teamster or mechanic can see at once its utility and effective force to hold a load on a down grade, or to prevent horse backing when required The Brake is made entirely of iron no wooden part being necessary, as no brake bar is used hence it does not carry mud and is not affected by wet and muddy or icy roads.

We invite critical examination, as we believe its merits can be demonstrated to any party who uses or understands a wagon brake.

WATER WORKS

Supply of water being one of the things which everybody must have it ought not in any city to be under control of an individual or company It is indispensable as bread yet unlike bread each person cannot furnish his own, because obtainment of water requires a large general outlay and a community in its organized capacity may secure it at a moderate rate for all No community should allow its supply of water to be controlled by a few individuals and subject to their caprice, rapacity and exactions One of the first conditions of life in a city is abundance of water supplied at reasonable rates by modern methods and a city has no right to be, if it do not take measures to secure it To show why Portland should have its own water works would be a superfluous argument Among all classes of citizens there is on this subject no difference of opinion The tax necessary to put the works in operation will be cheerfully borne and this great and necessary improvement may be organized on business principles and conducted as in other cities in such manner as to give us water at a cheap rate and at the same time pay its own expenses and interest on the outlay from the day it goes into operation

We have communicated on the subject with some of our leading citizens who are in a situation to know on what terms money can be had, and they give assurance that the amount required say from two hundred to five hundred thousand dollars may be readily obtained on bonds running twenty years at not more than eight per cent, and perhaps less, while on bonds to run thirty years it may probably be had at six or seven. Suppose we take the largest sum named—$500,000—at even eight per cent. The interest would be $40,000 a year Receipts for water at rates much reduced from those now paid for an inadequate supply would pay interest on the bonds and expenses of operation and repairs; and as the city grows rates may be reduced still more to consumers or a surplus be provided to establish a sinking fund to cancel the bonds

We believe that the best way to secure water supply is to go to Willamette falls There is no better water than that of Willamette river, and no place for water works superior to this A great wheel may be put in at the falls which will raise water in sufficient supply to a suitable elevation on the hill whence it may be conveyed by a main to a reservoir at the upper part of the city established at a height which will command every point within the city limits. Let us do this, and we shall have water in abundance and at a cheaper rate. To do it is both good policy and a high duty The people of Portland ought to place themselves above the power of extortion in the matter of water supply No tax will be so willingly paid as that necessary to institute this great and necessary work At present the city has not half water enough, and people are paying for it three times what they ought.

THE UNEMPLOYED

Massachusetts is a manufacturing State No state in the union has so great a proportion of its population engaged in manufacturing employments. It is therefore the state which most of all should feel the stress of the times, if the truth has been told about the suffering which the working classes are said to be undergoing through want of employment and wages But the bureau of statistics for labor for that State has collected a mass of materials by which this croaking folly and falseness are utterly exploded It is found as a result of simultaneous and most thorough inquiry in every town in Massachusetts that only 21 812 males are out of employment, a number much less than that ascribed by the windy agitators to Boston alone. Add thirty per cent for females out of employment which the bureau thinks a fair proportion and there are less than thirty thousand persons out of work in a population of nearly two millions. Yet it is asserted by those who are making themselves leaders of the political movement which they are trying to ground on socialism that there are three millions of people in the country who are unable to find employment But if a great manufacturing state like Massachusetts contains only 30 000 unemployed, it is certain that the agricultural states contain a proportion even smaller. Thus the authors of this report proceed to show that so far from there being three million unemployed people in the whole country the entire body of the unemployed cannot by any possibility be one-fifth of that number.

Noting these facts the Philadelphia Times says the result is most encouraging when compared with the croakings of the greenback-labor newspapers and politicians It takes all the starch out of their theories and leaves them very limp. Would it not be well, it asks, "for newspapers and stump speakers to modify their startling deductions in order to keep within the bounds of truth and dissipate the prevalent idea, for which they are so largely responsible, that we are facing a state of affairs so desperate that only the most desperate remedies can bring us any relief from depression? We will find it advisable also to consider whether the communistic propaganda now working in every community and of which such men as the pestiferous Kearney are the chief apostles, are not doing as much as any other agency to increase the timidity of capital the discontent of labor and the unrest of the whole people which must tend to increase these figures

CONSTITUTION OF WASHINGTON.

So far we have not met any citizen of Washington territory who expresses a belief that this instrument will be adopted In the first place, there is much indifference in regard to it, which indicates that the people do not care yet to seek the responsibilities of statehood, and second, there is some positive opposition to the instrument itself on account of various features, considered objectionable which it is found to contain It has no active support on the part of the press but some very earnest opposition It would be uncandid to say that the constitution is altogether without merit It has in fact some very good provisions Many of the articles appear to have been carefully studied and there is a judicious distribution of powers and responsibilities But if we of Oregon have reason to complain that our own constitution is in some respects a narrow one, the people of Washington will find the one now presented for their consideration even more so The new state is to be absolutely prohibited from contracting debts for the first fifteen years which shall in the aggregate exceed fifty thousand dollars, and its debt is never to exceed one hundred thousand. It is not to contract any debt whatever for internal improvement, or be a party in carrying on the same It is provided that all railroads shall be public highways and shall be free to all persons for transportation of themselves and property under such regulations as may be prescribed by law It is quite unnecessary to say that under this provision not many railroads would be built to trouble the people of Washington Now and then there is a dash of demagogy in the instrument as in the provision that none but citizens of the United States or persons who have declared their intentions to become such shall be employed in or about any public office in the state or in any state institution or on any public work prosecuted by the state Another similar touch is the provision making shareholders in every joint stock company individually liable for the labor performed for such company Under this constitution if it be adopted, the cost of state government will not be extravagant But there seems to be a general impression among the people of the territory that the movement is premature The few active supporters which the constitution has appear to be a class of politicians who have their little schemes in view, to be reached through state organization

The water company publish a notice in which they say they have made no increase of rates It must be then, that they have reconsidered and decided to withdraw the "water rates and rules and regulations" issued in their pamphlet For those rates if enforced will make a very decided increase in many instances amounting to one hundred per cent It is very difficult to suppose that there was no intention on the part of the company to increase the charges through these ingeniously devised rates People who find an extra charge of twenty-five cents a month additional for every person in a family of more than five and another twenty five cents a months extra for bath for each person above that number, and twenty five cents for each person in a sleeping room and twenty five cents extra a month for each person employed in workshops, and one dollar a month for water for each horse or cow, and so on through the whole list, will wonder what this scale of prices was made up for But they will find out when they come to pay if they pay according to the scale

Investigation of the demand for cheap beer in New York, conducted by the Sun has developed a class of bloated capitalists that "laboring men" of the Kearney stripe hitherto have not complained of. These are the brewers In the course of its investigation the Sun finds that while the brewers have been complaining of the unprofitableness of the business, they have been piling up wealth at a rate to make the bondholders green with envy Men who began a few years ago with almost nothing, now count their hundreds of thousands, while those who had anything like a fair send-off have become millionaires. Their wives and daughters and sons ride in stately coaches, and riot at the summer watering places, while the men who earned the money and sent it to these lordlings through the retailers of liquors, toil in the summer heat and complain of poverty These men are a class of capitalists that levy heavier taxes than the government We bring hard times upon ourselves by extravagance and then charge it upon this or that law.

The hop crop of Lane county is nearly ready for picking. It is supposed the harvest will be about one thousand bales of two hundred pounds each. Mr. J H Brown secretary of the hop association of Lane, is in Portland for the purpose of making arrangements for Chinese labor to gather the crop Pickers are paid by the box, and boys will often pick more than men Mr Brown thinks the whole crop will not be gathered and supposes that not more than half of it—say 200 000 pounds—will be taken care of Some of the growers are rather discouraged on account of the former uncertainties of the market A fair market for a year or two would establish confidence in hop growing and make it a leading business in that part of the state. The hop growers expect about two cents a pound for this year's crop which will net Lane county about $20 000 Pickers make at the rate paid about one dollar a day

And so after all the international conference on the silver question, which was to do so much for mankind has come to naught The European delegates have adopted a resolution declaring that there is no ground for discussing the question of international ratio between gold and silver Was it worth while to get up a conference and send delegates over the ocean to learn this? The rate of silver like that of everything else in the world, as foretold by those who opposed our humbug silver bill, must depend on its value as a commodity that is, on its relative abundance or scarcity, and the consequent demand for it The international conference may as well turn its attention to regulation of the price of wheat hides or beeswax

Recently Russia purchased forty locomotives in the United States They were made at the Baldwin works, Philadelphia At the same time ten locomotives were purchased in England A party of workmen from the United States set up the forty Baldwin engines in thirty two days, while a larger gang of English workmen were five weeks setting up the English locomotives The Russian authorities were much pleased by the superior skill of the Americans

A Short Card with a Long Introduction'

I HAVE FOR A LONG TIME CONTEMPLATED a change in the style of my business establishing in part not only the 10 cent and 15 cent system which is simply a just one to seller and buyer but also introducing a costlier (to me) and better class of goods I cannot do this, however without a fixed determination on my part to sell for cash only It is a rule which I must carry out in order to give my patrons the benefit resulting from such a course. Every business man will understand this and if not upheld in it it will become necessary for me to re establish the old and very unsatisfactory mode and sell a quality of goods which while superior to that generally sold will leave me a percentage to cover losses and delays inevitably resulting from a credit system

Intending to carry out the most approved principles and anticipating as is necessary in dealing out high cost goods a greatly increased patronage I have laid in a supply of cigars of all grades and especially Imported Havanas sufficiently large to meet the change

To bring to this market a big assortment of Imported Cigars the genuineness of which I am ready to guarantee involves considerable risk and outlay of money Goods of this class in consequence of their sensibility to atmospheric changes must be sold rapidly in order that invoices may be often renewed and the stock on hand be always fresh My facilities for supplying this market are most perfect and I need but to be seconded in my efforts by a public to whose liberality and long continued patronage I am indebted for my success in business In the future I hope to keep my faith with them as I am confident I have in the past Though my purchases extend to several importing houses I am the authorized agent of

AND

whose reputation as dispensers of Imported Cigars extends over this entire coast

As I propose to imitate no man but be always a leader I shall in spite of extremely small profits make a specialty of imported cigars selling them at 15 cents apiece and upwards.

I shall continually increase the assortment deal them out of the original packages and treat all patrons alike caring only to know that for every cigar that leaves the store I have received the coin I hope my friends and patrons will not ask me to violate a rule in which all things considered, the odds are so much in their favor To the trade and box customers rates will be made in accordance with amount purchased and terms agreed upon My 10 cent cigars will also be of improved quality New York cigars—Kerbs & Spies Lichtensteins and Geo P Lies' manufactures will be sold 3 to 7 for 25 cents and Seed cigars still cheaper

SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 31 1878

CITY.

WALLOWA VALLEY AND THE 'RED FISH.'—A gentleman who has recently visited the Wallowa valley in Eastern Oregon writes as follows to a friend in this city concerning that portion of the State: I am more eager than ever to show you the valley and lake, both of which seem more beautiful and attractive than ever. As for fishing I caught no large trout as in May, but caught none less than one pound. The red fish is now pretty well known to me. He is a salmon, comes from the sea, not unlike other salmon in color and shape, but changes color and shape after reaching the lake and as the spawning season advances. They are said to have come in less numbers this year than formerly, still their number is surpassing. Five hundred were taken in one drawing of the seine a few days before my arrival and while I was there we got a boat full to the gunwales in two drafts of the net. Mr John McCall salts the fish in quantities for the market. He has already put up 118 barrels. Now that hay harvest is nearly over the fish will be taken with murderous spear and gaff and hundreds will be murdered or wantonly destroyed. The place is growing in importance—four school houses built or begun and Sunday schools and singing classes are held in two of them.

AROUND AGAIN.—The teamster who met with a severe accident yesterday near the poor farm while on the way to this city is again able to be about. The man, who generally went by the name of 'Frank,' was employed by Mr. C. P. Bacon on his farm and was hauling wood from the farm to this city when the accident occurred. At first it was thought that "Frank" was killed outright, and the man who witnessed the accident, thinking him dead, left him and went to the relief of the team. As soon as the brake gave way the wagon forced the team down the hill to the bottom at a fearful rate of speed. The wagon was capsized and everything came together in a heap. Fortunately the team escaped with but little injury. After the accident Frank was taken to the county poor house, and Mr Bacon was notified. He took Dr. Jones and went at once to see the injured man. His injuries did not prove so serious as was at first supposed and after he recovered from the shock he was soon able to walk around.

OPEN TEMPERANCE MEETING.—Exercises of a very interesting character may be expected at the open temperance meeting at the hall of the Young Men's Christian Association this evening. These meetings have now been continued for more than a year, and have been the means of accomplishing a great amount of good. Every Saturday evening the stranger, as well as the citizen, the poor as well as the rich, find there a cordial welcome, with a pleasant and profitable evening's entertainment. This evening, besides other attractive exercises, speeches will be made by Mr. H. M. Clinton and other good speakers. Miss Clara Renick will read the 'Drunkard's Wife's Lament.' Miss H. Holman is expected to sing one or more beautiful and appropriate songs. The usual excellent vocal and instrumental music by the choir will be rendered. Cards containing the Murphy pledge will be gratuitously furnished, and all are cordially invited to be present and participate.

SPORTSMEN, TAKE NOTICE!—The young sportsmen of our city have occasion to look to their laurels. The reports of their successful raids upon the prairie chicken fields of eastern Oregon, have rekindled the fire of younger days in the blood of the "old boys" who shot quail in the west, when the west meant Ohio and Illinois, and the first built there [illegible] into Wasco county by Judge Strong. On Thursday last, as we are informed by a gentleman just down from The Dalles, the Judge captured fourteen fine birds in a very short time, notwithstanding he had not before handled a fowling piece since the days of muzzle-loaders, a performance which compares well with the exploits of the young fellows. And when it is further considered that the crack shot of The Dalles, who mostly accompanies our sportsmen to the field, did not go with the judge, we think he is clearly entitled to the belt.

CRICKET.—A match game of cricket will be played on the East Portland ground this afternoon at 2:15 sharp, between the Portland Cricket Club and the following well known base ballists: Effinger, Buchtel, Thompson, Harding, Speck, Capen, Luelling, Wiley, Gallet, Curry and Duniway. This will be the third and decisive game. The base ballists have their strongest team and will give their opponents a hard tussle. All players are requested to be on the grounds at 2 o'clock sharp. We learn that arrangements have been made with the cricketers to have a match game of base ball on Saturday next, 7th inst.

WE TRY AGAIN.—Yesterday a small drove of cattle were crossed over the Stark street ferry, and driven through the streets. We have often spoken of this nuisance and endeavored to abate it, and now we shall make further effort. We press Addison into the service this time:

> Is there not some chosen curse
> Some hidden thunder in the stores of Heaven
> Red with uncommon wrath to blast the man who will persist in driving his stags through the public streets of this city in broad day light? And this, too, in violation of an ordinance, and to the peril of life and limb?

N. E. P. SCHOOL.—The school in North East Portland, district No. 31 heretofore in charge of Prof. Johnson, will open next Monday in charge of Prof. D. G. Ingraham principal, and Miss Abbott teacher of the primary department. The county superintendent will visit the school in the afternoon of the first day for the purpose of grading the school. It is therefore desirable that there be a full and prompt attendance of all the pupils that each one may be assigned to his or her grade.

GOOD TEMPLARS RALLY.—There will be a public meeting of the Paradise Springs Lodge of Good Templars at the Mt. Tabor schoolhouse on Monday, September 2, 1878, at half past seven o'clock in the evening to devise ways and means for the erection of another hall at that place. All Good Templars and friends that feel interested in the erection of another hall at Mt. Tabor are requested to attend. The intention is to build a good two-story hall, to be a Good Templars hall and public hall combined.

THE PHONOGRAPH—LAST DAY.—The phonograph will be on exhibition at Masonic Hall this afternoon from 2 to 5 o clock, and from 7 to 10 in the evening. This will be the last day the wonderful talking instrument will be on exhibition in the city. Hundreds have already been to see the phonograph and hear it talk, but there are a great many who have not. It is well worth the trifling admission asked, and no one should fail to see and hear one of the most marvelous inventions of the present age.

"A LIE, AN ODIOUS LIE."—'Amos Keeter' is said to be the wretch who 'attempted to assassinate Smith, at Carlton, some nights ago.' Now, who was it that told the story to the Standard reporter? We exclaim with Emilia

> You told a lie, an odious damned lie
> Upon my soul, a lie, a wicked lie

That's our opinion, and it isn't so smart a thing to tell a lie either. Anybody can do it if he is mean enough.

CLERGYMAN ARRIVED.—The Rev J Taylor Chambers, arrived on the steamer Idaho to take charge of St Paul's Episcopal Church, Salem. He will officiate on the first occasion on Sunday the 1st of September, preaching and administering the holy communion.

LECTURE.—At 141 First street Dr Hyde will speak to-morrow (Sunday) at 11 o'clock. Subject: "What do the angels say?" Conference at 3 o'clock. Evening seance as usual. Mrs. Hendricks clairvoyant will be present afternoon and evening.

CAPT BAUGHMAN HELD TO ANSWER.—The preliminary examination of Capt. Eph Baughman for the killing of Pat Whalen on the steamer Spokane last Saturday took place at the Dalles on Wednesday and Thursday of the present week before Judge L L McArthur. Judge Wm Strong and W Lair Hill appeared for the defense and J C Cartwright and J A Atwater for the state. During the progress of the examination a large number of witnesses testified. Baughman was arrested on a charge of murder in the first degree but was held to answer the charge of manslaughter before the grand jury. His bonds were fixed at $4 000 which were readily furnished and the defendant released from custody. Each of the witnesses was held to appear in the sum of $250 in order to insure their attendance. The shooting took place on the Columbia river opposite Umatilla county and the trial will be held at Pendleton at the November term of the court. The examination took place before Judge McArthur for the reason that the warrant for the arrest was issued from Umatilla county and no magistrate had jurisdiction to commit the prisoner outside of that county. Judge McArthur being judge of the district had jurisdiction in the matter and therefore sat as committing magistrate. Captain Baughman came down the river yesterday, and is now in the city.

HORSE KILLED.—A well known horse called 'Doc' for a long time owned by C P Bacon of this city while playing in a lot in the suburbs of the city a few days ago slipped in some manner and broke a leg. Avert H & L Company will have their new machine this week and get into their new quarters in the city hall building by Saturday.

Thursday evening about 5 30 o'clock the daughter of Mrs Daggett of the Western hotel fell from the porch of the hotel to the ground some 20 or 25 feet and sustained fatal injuries. As your correspondent writes she is not expected to live. The widow has the earnest sympathy of this community in her sad bereavement.

The English gentleman Mr E C Thornburg Cropper who has been spending several weeks in hunting in this vicinity took his departure on the Idaho, Thursday for England. Mr Cropper informs me it is his intention to return again next year with several others and will spend a month or more in hunting on and around Saddle mountain in this county.

FIRST "BRITISHER" AGAIN

PORTLAND Aug 30, 1878

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I have read (without pain) that other Britisher's production in to-day's issue of THE OREGONIAN and think that your correspondent has certainly made a very poor attempt to help a lame dog over a stile. I am sorry to have caused El Freno a moment's pain, but some people are so very thin skinned. It is surprising to me how such genius as his was ever permitted to leave the land of its birth. But it was ever thus. A prophet hath no honor in his own country. Or perhaps his peculiar talents were so well appreciated that he left his country for his country's good.

El Freno having made it his business to take me to task does not attempt to refute any of my statements but confines himself to personal abuse, and has to go back to the time of the Georges for an argument. As he seems partial to old saws I would remind him of one about a bird that defiles its own nest which might be applicable to his case. He attempts to raise a quibble about my use of the words Union Jack of Old England but in doing so only shows his own stupidity as every intelligent person knows that the word England in that case is used in a general sense and implies Great Britain.

If I may be allowed to make a guess judging from his letter I should presume the writer to be a Scotchman. That may doubtless account for the Scotch verdict of not proven being so very obnoxious to him. Is that where the shoe pinches Sawney? Was that the verdict in your case? It is a pity the gallows was cheated in that way though I'm afraid they would have required to handicap you with a little lead to make up for what you lack in brains. For if the mind's the standard of the man you must be very small indeed.

It is not necessary to go so far as England for corroboration of what I said. you have but to cross over to British Columbia and you will find things exactly as represented.

With regard to 'El Freno's' advice to me to take a trip to the colonies I would say that the latter half of my life has been spent in the colonies and when writing the article that has invoked his censure I had especial reference to them.

But how delighted every true American must feel to have such a champion to defend them and their institutions. It is quite refreshing to hear this imported bantam sound his shrill clarion on a foreign dunghill. Seeing that he has tendered his services gratuitously I would suggest that this ci-devant Britisher be voted a leather medal—at the next centennial!

Sawney man dinna fash yersel, gang your ain gate an' let your neebors fecht their ain battles. They can vera weel dispense wi' your services. Stick to your parritch and dig your ain kail yard.

Apologizing for occupying so much of your valuable space I beg leave to still subscribe myself

TO THE PUBLIC.

It unwillingly becomes my duty to inform the public that a certain would be high-toned competing firm are now, through jealousy, resorting to falsehood and vilification in order to gain patronage etc. My reputation for fair dealing with customers has never yet been questioned by my patrons and it has remained for those vilifiers to attempt by misrepresentation to injure a legitimate and honorably conducted business. I have always sold goods cheaper than they could be purchased elsewhere, and I am now determined to make further reductions. The people can, as heretofore, find at my establishment a full line of first class goods at moderate prices. Call and see and be convinced.

An Item of Interest to Every Lady who Desires to be More Beautiful than she now is.
Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred, subjected to the whims of an American climate, possesses that basis and starting point of real beauty—a pure and clear complexion. California and Oregon Railroad

From the Yreka Journal

The last 20 miles of road on the C & O railroad was received by the government a few months ago and next year the company is obliged to build an additional 20 miles at least, though we hear it stated from prominent railroad men that they will build enough to last [illegible] years or may put the road clear through to the Oregon line A proposition from the German bondholders [illegible] the Oregon branch to furnish the money at a very low rate of interest is said to be under consideration by the C P R R as the latter has been using all its surplus capital on the Southern Pacific in Arizona to head off Tom Scott besides building a new short line via Bantas to Sacramento over which [illegible] will [illegible] the 1st of next month The C P R R [illegible] that the road to Redding does not pay except during the harvest season, nor can it be made to pay unless freight goes through to Portland and secure the Oregon travel and trade If the C P R R however [illegible] their franchise, the [illegible] bondholders are ready to [illegible] it off [illegible] and build the road through from Redding to Roseburg We [illegible] put it [illegible] lot of capital [illegible] as soon as possible as everybody [illegible]
